VOL. 7, NO. 20 EIGHT PAGES THIS WEEK. ST. CLOUD, OSCEOLA COUNTY, FLORIDA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1916. $1.50 PER YEAR. FIVE CENTS THE COPY.

VOTES WILL BE CAST OVER NATION TUESDAY NOVEMBER 7.

Every Office From President to County Justice of the Peace Will Be Voted, Ending Strenuous Campaign Year,---Both Parties Claiming Success.

Claims are being made, as usual, by candidates of all parties of their sure success in the general election next Tuesday. A campaign has been waged over the whole nation between the two great parties, with President Woodrow Wilson for re-election on one side, and Wm. E. Hughes, candidate of the Republican party on the other.

In Florida, for the first time in many years, there are five sets of candidates for the offices in the state capital, and in several counties there is also opposition from Republicans and Socialists as well as Independent Prohibitionists. The people of Florida have witnessed one of the bitterest campaigns for state officers this year that has occurred for several years. Whirlwind campaign speeches have occupied the attention of the voters for several weeks past.

Saturday St. Cloud will be the center of activity on the part of the heads of the Republican ticket, when Hon. Geo. W. Allen, candidate for governor; G. T. Gerow, candidate for congress; W. R. O'Neal and John M. Cheney, also candidates on the Republican ticket, will address the voters.

The system of printing the ballots in Florida does not permit of any distinction being made in what party a man belongs to when the name is placed on the ticket, and since the names of the presidential candidates does not appear, the votes for electors accomplishing the election, it is necessary for a voter to know to what party a man belongs in order to be able to vote for his choice for president. We print below a list of names taken from a sample ballot, in which we mark the names of the candidates with their party affiliation, as far as we could vouch for their accuracy. This list will aid the voters of this section in casting their ballot for their choice.

SHRINERS CEREMONIAL IN ORLANDO NEXT WEEK

St. Cloud will be well represented at the ceremonial of the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles to be held in Orlando next Thursday, November 9.

Great preparations have been made for the entertainment of the hosts that will gather in the capital of Orange County, and two special trains will be run over the Atlantic Coast line for the occasion. One train will bring the members of Morocco Temple, Jacksonville, and other Masons while a Potentates' Special will be run from Tampa.

Twenty-five candidates are known to be ready to start on the trip across the desert, and it is believed the class will be much larger when the Potentates and their Noble Hosts take the city next Thursday.

The program as announced is as follows:
2 p. m.—Automobile ride, starting from San Juan Hotel, to view the beautiful residence section, parks and lakes. Receptions will be held en route.

3:30 p. m.—Band concert and patrol drill by Morocco's fine band and perfect drilled patrol, at the band stand.

4:45 p. m.—Grand Shriner's Parade starts from the Armory. As the line of march will be short no autos will be used and every Noble is expected to march. If your dress suit is not convenient, join in as you are.

6 p. m.—Banquet at the San Juan hotel.

7:30 p. m.—Ceremonial session at the Armory. Our director has some new stunts which you will enjoy.

8:30 p. m.—Business session at the Armory to receive and ballot on petitions.

10:30 p. m.—Grand street carnival and masquerade dance by the general public for the entertainment of the Nobles of the ceremonial.

The Orlando Board of Trade, through its secretary, Mr. Fred Allen, is doing some extensive advertising, one of which appears in this issue of the Tribune.

Bi-Annual Agricultural and Horticultural Report Made

REPORT OF OSCEOLA COUNTY FINISHED BY COUNTY ENUMERATOR BRATTON AND SENT TO DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE. SHOWS INCREASE IN MANY LINES. ROOM FOR MORE DEVELOPMENT.

The biennial agricultural and horticultural report of Osceola county has been completed by County Enumerator H. N. Bratton and filed with the Commissioner of Agriculture, where it will be used to compile statistics of the resources of Florida.

The report for this county shows some interesting facts. While there is a variety of farm products grown here, the report does not show very large crops of many staple items that have been proven valuable to the farmer in this section, and thereby newcomers may gain the idea that such crops are not profitable here. Some trouble was encountered by Mr. Bratton in compiling this report many people holding the view that such report was for taxing purposes reported according to the way they gave in property for taxation. This accounts for the shortage in acreage in several crops that have long been money makers in Osceola county.

The figures are as correct as Mr. Bratton could get by interviewing the farmers of this section as well as articles, and the cash value placed on each item in the report is based on present market prices.

Cattle and citrus fruits stand at the head of the list for Osceola county, but hay and corn crops make a good showing as well. That truck farming is being taken up all around the towns where there are facilities for shipping can be ascertained from the fact that the report on truck products was compiled from interviewing several hundred persons, each small tract being included in the total for this crop. Another feature of the report that is not apparent to the average person, is the fact that in the summer months there is but little truck grown, the winter months being the time for the truck in this section.

The following facts are given from the report:

Corn, 1,162 1/2 acres, 177,34 bushels, $17,734.00.
Sweet potatoes, 235 1/4 acres, 19,792 bushels, $18,708.50.

CATTS SPOKE IN ST. CLOUD TO GOOD CROWD MONDAY

Hon. Sidney J. Catts, candidate for governor, spoke to a large crowd in this city Monday morning and was repeatedly cheered for his utterances on the political situation. Mr. Catts feels confident of success in the general election next Tuesday, claiming that he is the nominee of the people of the Democratic party, in spite of the fact that an opponent got a decision in the supreme court after several recounts, which he charges were one-sided and unfair. Mr. Catts promises many reforms in the administration of the state's affairs. He is the only candidate for governor that has spoken here twice during the campaign.

FORMER SAINT CLOUD VISITOR CELEBRATES 86TH ANNIVERSARY

Noted Lawyer and Equal Rights Advocate Foresees End of War in One Year--Makes Statement While Receiving Congratulations of Friends--Active in Peace Work.

There are many St. Cloud residents that will remember the visit of Mrs. Belva Lockwood last winter, while she was the guest of her schoolmate, Mrs. Asa D. Stebbins, of New York avenue. Mrs. Lockwood recently celebrated her eighty-sixth birthday at her home in Washington, D. C. and was the recipient of many hearty congratulations. She has long been known as a most active worker for peace, and on the occasion of her birthday gave out an interesting interview in which she stated that the European war will end within one year. The Washington newspapers gave the following interesting story on October 24th.

"World peace within a year—that will be lasting—and then I die happy." That was the prayerful prediction yesterday of Mrs. Belva Lockwood, the world's veteran peace advocate, on her eighty-sixth birthday anniversary, after working for nearly forty years for universal peace. That in substance is the birthday greeting she is sending to peace advocates in all the corners of the world with whom she has been in personal association for many years.

While to each the letter of encouragement is personal, the views expressed by Mrs. Lockwood regarding "Peace—when and how," in these letters are given below in an interview to a representative of the Star. Physically feeble by her long life of effort for humanity and the achievement of her sex, but with spirit still strong, Mrs. Lockwood, who has put much of personal effort into life and taken little from it in personal rewards, was seated in her unpretentious study.

The walls were hung close with old family portraits, many of them made before the art of photography was yet known, and with the autographed pictures of great men of many countries. Furniture and rugs showed the marks of time and wear of hospitality. Huge bouquets about the room and a simple desk table, piled high with letters and telegrams and cablegrams of congratulation, testified to the enduring regard of many friends.

"May Live to See It."
Her hand resting upon this pile of letters from fellow workers in the cause of international peace as though mutely thus striving to keep in closest touch with them, her eyes still keen, assuming a far-off look as though peering into the future, Mrs. Lockwood spoke:

"I am more interested in peace for the world than anything else—peace, when and how. I hope I will live to see it, and I think I will. I am keenly interested in the great meeting for peace to be held here next May by the League to Enforce Peace. I hope to attend that meeting. A similar meeting is to be held by the International Peace League at The Hague, and a third great peace meeting is to be held by the Peace League at Lugano, Switzerland. I want to see these three great peace meetings assemble the peace advocates from all over the world and unite on some definite, practical program that will mean lasting peace for civilization.

"This great war, the most terrible in the history of the world, has proved what war really is. The terms of settlement must confirm this for all time—viz: that war is a demon let loose by greed and lust for power. In the civilization of today and the future this monster must not be allowed to settle the affairs of men. I expect to see the nations of the world unite in settlement of this Titanic struggle on terms of justice, and from that union a brotherhood of nations will grow that will make future wars impossible.

When Peace Will Come.
"That is my vision of peace—when? While this cannot be settled in the mind of any one, I am confident it must come within a year. The thought in war-mad Europe seems to be that either the Allies or the central powers must win to bring about a durable peace. I think that the war must stop soon. It is exhausting itself. Food is scarce, the people are starving, the exchequers are exhausted and they are all depending on the United States for money. The armies are being depleted. There will not be any men soon. If they keep on the women must run the countries.

"I think that in less than a year from sheer necessity, war must stop. "Peace—how?"
"Then will come a great mission for the United States. This country must lead in the adjustment. I believe that the United States will be asked to propose the terms of settlement. These will be recommended to a council of all nations, sitting as an international court of arbitration, and adopted, I feel sure.

"The neutral nations in Europe and the United States seem agreed that the settlement must replace the map of Europe as it was at the beginning of the war. The status quo of nations must be preserved. French territory must be restored. Belgium must be preserved intact. Poland—long a bone of contention—must have autonomy; in other words, all of the smaller nations must have autonomy. That is justice, and justice must prevail. If this is not done there will be another war just as soon as the nations can prepare for it.

"Each day I am more firmly convinced that this is the last great war, and that an era of world peace is about to dawn."
Mrs. Belva Lockwood—the only woman who has ever been a candidate for president of the United States, the first woman admitted to practice law before the supreme court of the United States, and the one person to whom women employed in the government service are indebted for the law which gives them equal pay with men—is celebrating her eighty-sixth birthday anniversary today in her home, 22 Indiana avenue northwest, Washington, D. C.

In spite of her advanced years Mrs. Lockwood, although retired now from active practice of the law, still is active in public matters.

It was in 1843 that Mrs. Lockwood was nominated for the presidency, by the woman's equal rights party, on August 23, in San Francisco, Cal., and although her campaign lacked a strong supporting organization and money for expenses, she polled a creditable number of votes. She was renominated in 1888, her platform containing many of the advanced ideas of present administration. Although these nominations came unsolicited, she campaigned with vigor, even carrying the election before Congress, protesting that Mr. Cleveland was not elected.

Handled 7,000 Pension Cases
Mrs. Lockwood has outlined three sets of judges and three sets of lawyers. She was in active practice of law in the District for forty-three years and has only just retired. During her legal career she participated in more than 7,000 pension cases. Her last speech in court was last year in the Court of Claims for a settlement of the estate of Gen. John Sevier, first governor of Tennessee on which she had been engaged for more than seven years.

Among the famous cases in which she was engaged was the Eastern and Emigrant Cherokee against the United States government, in which she was one of the attorneys of record who won a $5,000,000 verdict. She was one of the twenty attorneys in the celebrated Winton case; assisted Boudineaux in the Chipewas case; figured in important litigation ben-fitting the Mississippi Choctaws and was engaged in the defense before the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia and had charge of the Gage insanity case, in which she won an important victory in settling the status of the disease, paranoia and in freeing her client.

By her efforts in the peace movement Mrs. Lockwood won probably her greatest fame and world-wide recognition. It was only three years ago, just before the war in Europe, that Mrs. Lockwood was one of a party of eighteen sent to Europe with a peace message to the women of the world. Today she received from The Hague, from the Central Organization for a Durable Peace, of which Dr. H. C. Dresselhuys, of Holland, is president, a letter asking her advice and co-operation in further development of the peace movement.

Long a Worker for Peace

She has been a member of the Universal Peace Union for thirty-six years. For more than a quarter of a century she has attended the International Peace Bureau at Berne. She attended her first peace congress in 1885 and was seated on the platform at the right hand of Frederick Passy of Lille, who presided. One of her notable works has been the compilation of the peace treaties of the United States.

Mrs. Lockwood prepared and had introduced in Congress the first bill recommending an international arbitration court, and during Cleveland's first administration, 1886 the State Department sent her to the Congress of Charities and Corrections, in Geneva, Switzerland. While on this mission she visited the Seventh International Peace Congress in Budapest, the exposition in commemoration of securing one hundred years of freedom by the Hungarians from the Turks, and the second International Woman's Congress, presenting at the latter an extensive paper on the "Civil and Political Life of Women in the United States."

Later she represented the Universal Peace Union at the Paris Exposition of 1889 and was its delegate to the International Peace Congress in Paris in 1889 and in London in 1890. In 1913 she was chairman of a committee of thirty women from all states and nations to formulate the declaration of independence of the Congress of the Women's Republic. Later she was made attorney general of the Women's Republic, which was an upper and lower branch of congress, and is an educational, agricultural and commercial body.

Born at Royalton, N. Y.

Mrs. Lockwood was born at Royalton, N. Y., October 24, 1830. Her maiden name was Belya Ann Bennett. She was graduated from Genesee College in 1857. For eleven years she taught at the Lockport, N. Y., Union School and the Gainesville N. Y., Seminary, and was proprietor of the McNall Seminary, Oswego, N. Y. During the Civil war she was president of the Ladies' Aid Society, of Lockport, and at its close moved to Washington. When she first came to this city she was employed for a year as teacher in a private school conducted by Miss Margaret Harrover and her sister. She then opened a school of her own in Union League Hall, on Seventh street, which she continued for seven years.

She worked for and obtained in 1870 the passage of a bill in Congress giving women employees of the government equal pay for equal work with men. Prior to that they had been restricted to $75 per month.

She was graduated from the National University Law School in 1873, with the degree B. L., and admitted after a hard struggle to the District of Columbia bar. In 1876 she obtained the passage of a bill, which she drafted, admitting women to the bar of the Supreme Court of the United States, and she was the first woman admitted under it in 1879. She was likewise admitted to the United States Court of Claims, to the supreme court of the states of New York and Virginia and to the court of the five civilized Indian tribes, at Muskogee, E. T., where she had many important cases.

In 1890 she took a course of university extension at Oxford University, England. She has been called in as arbitrator and mediator in a number of labor disputes. She is an honorary member of the Vie Internationale of Brussels of the women's branch of the World Center Society of Rome, Italy.

Was Twice Married

Mrs. Lockwood was married twice, first at Royalton, N. Y., November 8, 1848, to Uriah McNall, a farmer, who died in 1853. She was married the second time in Washington, March 11, 1868, to Dr. Ezekiel Lockwood, captain in the Civil war of the Second District of Columbia Volunteer Infantry. He died April 23, 1877.

She had two daughters, one by each marriage, both of whom are dead.

Mrs. Lockwood has few relatives living. A favorite grandson is serving with the Signal Corps of the District of Columbia at Nogales—De Forrest Ormes. A nephew, Matthias Gardner, is a student in the Naval Academy at Annapolis. His father formerly was in the Bureau of Soils here, but now is professor in the State College, Pa. She has a niece, Miss Helen Bennett, in Indianapolis, where her brother is blind and crippled. All of these relatives sent her gifts for her birthday.

A feature of the celebration today is a large birthday cake, elaborately frosted and carrying the inscription, "Birthday greetings—aged 86."

Occupying a place of honor in Mrs. Lockwood's home today as her friends are calling to extend congratulations is a life-sized portrait of herself, which was sent her for the occasion by Dr. Minnie Bishop, of Chicago.

CHAUTAUQUA COMING AGAIN

Mr. C. Rucker Adams, manager of Florida Winter Chautauqua, who has recently returned from a trip to Chicago and northern Chautauquas, securing talent for the coming season, was in town Friday interviewing the local committee. He reports splendid success in obtaining the talent most popular in this vicinity, for the third week in February. Our programs compare more than favorably with those summer chautauquas, where they have been established for many years, and much more money is pledged. As an educational feature the Chautauqua movement is one of the most universally popular of the present day, and no town can afford to be without one. Mr. Adams, as manager, has made it possible for us to hear some of the best musical and literary talent of the country during the past two winters and always sends us just what he agrees to.

PREBYTERIAN CONCERT

The sacred concert at the Presbyterian church last Sunday night was the best of the kind ever given in St. Cloud. It seemed as though all our good things were coming at once for during the week the much needed rain came. Although the rain interfered somewhat with the rehearsals of the concert each one rendered their part well, and a full house showed the appreciation which St. Cloud people have for good music.

The male quartette did well and we hope to hear them often this winter.

If the young people of St. Cloud would only realize how much the public enjoys good sacred music we believe they would give more concerts. We have the talent if we would only use it.

LOCAL REGISTRAR WANTED IN EACH VOTING PRECINCT

The State Board of Health is now preparing to put into operation throughout the State of Florida the Vital Statistics Law, which requires the registration of all births and all deaths.

The law provides that a local registrar shall be appointed in each municipality and voting precinct. It is the duty of the local registrar to look after the reporting of births and the deaths, and for this service he shall receive a fee of 25 cents for each birth and death reported to the State Board of Health.

In many of the voting precincts and towns no local registrar has yet been appointed and it may be possible to secure such appointment by writing to the State Board of Health. The records of births and deaths procured under this law will be of great value for legal purposes to citizens of the state and indispensable to the State Board of Health in keeping in touch with the health conditions of each community.

Poll Taken By 8000 Druggists

Organization Covers All States

Includes Big Local Vote

For the past three weeks the members of the National Association of Retail Druggists to the number of 8,000 have been taking a ballot of their customers and have already recorded the political views of over 2,500,000 voters drawn from all walks of life.

The results of this ballot in 8,000 hamlets, villages, towns and cities, ranging in population from 100 to 100,000,000, are forwarded by mail and telegraph daily to the National Headquarters of the Druggists' Association in Boston. There the results are tabulated and the returns reported back to 8,000 members.

Before the official ballot takes place, the name of the President-elect of the United States will be announced in all the Retail Stores.

By special arrangement with the Seminole Pharmacy the results of the straw vote, which includes a representative poll of St. Cloud will be announced in the Tribune later, and will be published simultaneously all over the United States, in the leading newspapers and by announcements in the Retail stores.

BADGERS ASSOCIATION

On Thursday, October 19th, the Badgers gathered at the boat landing to the number of 30, at 9:30 in the morning, to go across the lake to Wildwood Park. We were helped onto the steamer Maud, queen of the lake, and it was a beautiful day, and the lake was perfectly calm. Capt. Cope and his good wife set out to please the party and we were courteously treated and the boat made good time and skimmed across the water like a bird and we landed on the other shore a happy lot, where we found everything to make us happy and comfortable.

We soon had the fire built and coffee cooling and the tables were loaded with good things to eat. At the table is where the Badgers excel. We all enjoyed our good dinner, after which we had a very pleasant visit, and then we went through a beautiful orchard of lemons, oranges, grapefruit and tangerines and called on Mr. Sullivan and family, after which we wended our way back to Wildwood Park. There our meeting was called to order by our worthy president, Capt. Sheldon. We had a very interesting meeting and took in seven new members. We had a fine talk from our chaplain, Rev. A. Peters. Mrs. Marskie recited Barbara Fritchie and at the close of the meeting prayer was offered by Rev. Peters, and we closed a very interesting meeting to meet again on the third Thursday of November, at Mrs. J. Green's home, on Florida avenue and Thirteenth street.

Our return trip across the lake was very pleasant and we would have been glad if we could have ridden farther. Everything worked so smoothly. But there was to be a close of all good things, so we landed and said good night, and each one wended his or her way homeward.

NEWS NOTES FROM KISSIMMEE CITY

Cornelius Christiancy, Florida state agent for the Coe-Mortimer Fertilizer Co. of New York, Charleston, etc., has been registered at the Graystone for several days. Mr. Christiancy remarked that owing to the scarcity of potash some fertilizer companies are importing bone as a substitute, which comes chiefly from South America. Save your bleached bones, which are worth some $15 per ton. Green bones naturally are more valuable; also your old newspapers, magazines, etc., as old paper is fetching $7.50 per ton. It is this great war teaches us as a nation to economize and manufacture more of our undeveloped raw material; it will be a lesson of profit. We need to be more self-sustaining, more independent of the products of foreign countries.

Although the clouds had not rolled by, we noticed the following Orlando visitors enjoying the band concert on Sunday last: Braxton Beechman with party; G. C. Nolan, cashier of the Orlando Bank and Trust Co., with full auto party; Dr. Whitman with Mrs. Whitman and party; Frank Helms and friends; Clyde Pounds, with wife and party; Assemblyman Sam Griffin, with full car load.

Kissimmee, Oct. 25, 1916
Dear Editor:—

We are informed City Attorney O'Bryan has been instructed by our city to revise the city ordinances. If our council wills they can improve greatly the general ordinances and bring them up to the requirements of a growing city. Our present building ordinance should be mustered out of commission and replaced by one which would give ample protection to the investing builder, and all buildings should be erected with the view of lessening the rate of insurance. They should be inspected by a competent architect, one holding a certificate issued by the Florida Architects' Association, as buildings should be erected under the association's rules. If the people of our city sincerely wish progression now is the opportunity to commence right. If a clean city is the object to be attained our plumbing ordinances, which are compiled from some of the best in vogue in clean cities should be enforced by experienced plumbers, who, according to the present ordinances, should hold a master's certificate.

There are too many progressive cities in this state holding out inducements to outside capital, for any non-progressive city even to imagine they can attract it. We possess the natural means to attract in Kissimmee: climate, water, situation, etc., but certainly it seems we are allowing opportunity to slip by us by our neglect to display our wares in an attractive form to the investor.

The day of walled cities has passed. A city surrounded by a moat and possessing a draw bridge will soon starve to death, as progression means protection to all alike, and co-operation with the different lively cities in a county and state.

Co-operation means commission form of government, which has long passed the experimental stage.

A dead town should bury its dead—its old styled civic council form of government, or most certainly it will soon be out of the progressive race.

Yours for progress,
H. Edmund Swabey.

Dear Editor:—Last week I sent you a newspaper clipping relative to the achievements of Private Thomas Jones. If you add to it the following it will give you a good news item:

"One of the fifteen Victoria Crosses, the award of which are made in today's London Gazette, is made today to Private Thomas Jones, who, according to the official account, after killing three snipers who were shooting at him, entered the German trenches and single-handedly disarmed 102 Germans, including three or four officers, and marched them back to the British lines through a heavy barrage fire.

We had the pleasure of meeting Mr. W. G. Fleming, general agent of the Greater Sheesley Shows, which attractions have been secured by the managers of the Osceola County Fair committee for Fair Week. Mr. Fleming is a much traveled man, having been connected with shows all over the North American continent and also in American show novelties in Europe. The Greater Sheesley Shows these last ten months have exhibited their attractions in fourteen different states, and no doubt will be a great drawing card to our coming Osceola Fair.

We are pleased to welcome Col. W. A. McCool, who has a summer residence at Beaver Falls, Pa. Col. McCool has a residence on Emmett street, also large land holdings at Kissimmee Park, where he raises citrus fruits and cattle. He is also interested in and a firm believer in the oil prospect of the Kissimmee Oil Co., who are drilling a well at Kissimmee Park.

On Thursday the 19th, the Moose Club held its fortnightly smoker with refreshments on the side. Gopher croquettes was a new dish served to the brothers, after participating at which they one and all used their vocal chords singing nigger songs. What antics they will cut after partaking of 'possum is a mystery of the future.

Last Saturday the genial Ed Magee passed the half century mark and celebrated the event by sending out the call to certain of his brothers Moose to partake of a colation. The call was responded to to a man, and none were disappointed in the reception they received.

After the feast impromptu speeches were made. Some of the good points of the genial host were expatiated upon, and the hearty good wishes of all present were extended to Brother Magee.

C. H. Lightsey has leased the Bronson-Mack packing house on the Midland railroad, and commenced packing Parson Browns for H. C. Schrader, of Orlando. These oranges passed the acid test and then some, so will pass from our state with a clear bill of health. Mr. Lightsey has already contracted for 32,000 boxes and is in a position to ship away a car per day. Season, cultivation and the kind of fertilizer used, all play a part in the early maturity of fruit. Close attention and practical experience are two essentials leading towards success.

Dr. Grimm, who is rusticiating at Col. McCool's grove, at Kissimmee Park, came across the lake accompanied by Luc Seaman. Luc reports matters in fine condition at the Park and that the cattle are looking fine.

Old friends of Kissimmee, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Williams, of Lake Windermere, paid our city one of their periodical visits last week, registering at the Graystone.

W. A. Joiner, superintendent of the Kissimmee water and light plant, has returned from Tampa and is again enjoying good health, much to the delight of his numerous friends. His bright smile and kind personality are welcomed by all.

Cattle Buyer Elam shipped 1,300 head of heaves, etc., to Texas on Monday last. Most of these cattle were raised by Mr. Rull Bass.

Ed Whaley commenced to dip his cattle on Wednesday.

Over 10,000 head of cattle have been shipped from Kissimmee so far this season. We are sorry to see breeding cows leaving our section, as we know they cannot be replaced for treble what they are being sold for.

"Men called him 'rich' because of what he had." Houses and lands and gold that flowed in streams into his great strong-boxes, till it made him that great thing—a multi-millionaire. Envy him? Why, his lonely human soul, starving for that which has no price in gold; servant of his own wealth—a slave in chains; envied by many, but called "friend" by none.

The Most Satisfactory Paving

W. B. POWELL WRITES OF ROAD-MAKING MATERIAS.

Builders Use Brick and Cement Entirely. Other Materials Are Found Not to Stand the Strain of Modern Heavy Traffic.

The Tribune is in receipt of a letter from Willis B. Powell, premier booster and newspaper man, of Clearwater, who, with his wife and daughter, is on a summer tour by automobile of several thousand miles. In the letter Mr. Powell, who is a keen observer, states that practically all kinds of road-making materials except brick and cement are being discarded, as not up to the standard made necessary by the heavier traffic introduced by the automobile. He says asphalt macadam and similar materials have been laid on the shelf. Mr. Powell's letter follows:

Near Wheeling, somewhere in West Virginia, July 16, 1916:

After traveling 3,500 miles I find that brick and cement are the only two permanent and comfortable roads. Through Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio, over the course we traveled, there is not a foot of any other road than brick and cement being constructed. They are tearing up asphalt, tarred rock, macadam, gravel and other paving and laying fourteen to sixteen foot brick or cement paving. The auto traffic is even traveling roads made of tar and rock, while asphalt roads are about as good as if they were spread with butter.

W. B. POWELL.

MACADAM A FAILURE

Will Not Stand Motor Traffic. The Trend Toward Brick Paving.

Among other cities in the country that are being stirred up over the paving question is Cincinnati, and the tendency there seems to be toward brick paving instead of macadam. A great many streets of Cincinnati are following responding:

J. A. Petit, Co. B, 8th Wis., gave a pleasing talk.

Dr. J. C. Wheatley, of Milwaukee, Wis., spoke a few minutes.

George Woodward, of St. Cloud, who told of his travels.

Robert Anderson, Co. C, 19th U. S. Infantry, who was the first president of the Vet's Association, in 1909, gave a brief history of its organization and his share in it, all of which was well received.

The president highly complimented Comrade W. P. Lynch and was endorsed by the audience. Comrade Lynch gave a very brief account of the visit of Comrade Ed Depew and self to the Mountain Branch National Soldiers' Home, and his visit to Kansas and other states—eleven in all, with Florida still on top.

President Kenney, in introducing the social hour workers for the day—the W. C. T. U., lead by Mrs. Clara Kenney, eulogized the women and their work, and remarked that he was in full accord with them, especially as he had for many years sided paved with the latter material. The increase of heavy motor trucks, both in point of weight and velocity, on the city streets is what forced the problem of a change in street paving on Mayor Spiegel, Service Director Fosdick and City Engineer Krug. Mr. Krug says that macadam is used on the streets of Cincinnati more than any other paving, and in reference thereto he says:

"Take, for example, a suit of clothing made of soft material, use a stiff bristled brush in cleaning it frequently, and it is only a matter of time until you will have brushed the nap away and be wearing thread-bare clothing. The use of heavy trucks on macadam streets results in the raising of dust from the material, and the speed of machines raises a wind which blows the dust away, and thus when you are on the streets, you are brushing your soft-napped municipal clothing with a stiff bristled brush. This is a problem of today."—The Onlooker.

EVERY WORD TRUE

Build brick roads and stop wasting money. Secure a permanent investment and stop the everlasting expense of upkeep. This is our advice to the people of this county in regard to road building. We do not expect the advice to be heeded. The first cost of brick roads scares the taxpayer and he balks. Perhaps some day the people will learn from costly experiment that it is cheaper to build permanently than to build cheaply and continuously.—Lakeland Telegram.

Brother Hetherington did not waste any words. Everything he says in the above is true, because it has been proven so in Orange. This county was the first in the state to lead off with good roads. Various materials have been used, but nothing has been tried that has given the satisfaction like brick.—Editorial from the South Florida Sentinel, Orlando, Florida, June 11th, 1915.—Adv't.

with them in the fight against liquor, and that he had been mobbed three times by the minions of rum, but had come out on top, as he had always done, even when the devil changed his tactics from war to lies, the audience endorsing his speech.

An excellent program was rendered as follows:

Song by W. C. T. Chorus, "Florida is Going Dry."

Recitation, "Rum Home," by Mrs. Mary Johnson.

Song by W. C. T. Chorus, "The Nation is Going Dry."

Select reading by Mrs. Hughes, Musical duet, violin and piano, by Paul Northrop and Miss Kathleen Goff.

Recitation by Willa Garner, who responded to encore.

Recitation by Priscilla Peckham, with response to encore.

Song by W. C. T. U. chorus, "The Tide rolls on."

Collection was $3.02.

All were pleased with Comrade Lynch's return, and glad to have him resume his position as chorister.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

New Freedom, Pa.—Editor Tribune: Enclosed find check to renew subscription. Hope to be with you in the Wonder City soon, as it is getting a little cool up here. I hope when I come down I will see lots of improvements and I would very much like to see a new depot, worthy of the city. Wishing you success and that the paper may grow bigger and better every year, I remain, Yours for the advancement of Florida, J. A. Kugler.

We are in receipt of a letter from a former winter visitor to St. Cloud, who states that he is now coming here to locate permanently, and the manner in which he is going to get in touch with people who have the kind of property to sell should be considered by others who have planned to come here this winter. This gentleman will have no trouble in getting in touch with people through the columns of the Tribune. The buying public as well as those who have something to sell, watch these columns every week. There is no better way to get your property sold, nor any surer way to obtain the kind you wish to buy than to advertise in the Tribune. The letter is in part as follows:

Editor Tribune:—Please find enclosed one dollar. If this is not enough send bill or charge and will settle balance on my arrival the first half of next month. I will stay here until after election then move as soon as possible. I am in a hurry to get the enclosed advertisement in the paper to help me in locating a house soon after getting there. Will move there to stay. I wintered there two years ago and a part of the winter before. I have just thought of this way to help get a permanent location in your city.

Very truly yours, A. J. Thurber.

A. J. Thurber,

Randelman, N. C.

The advertisement stating what kind of place and location desired appears elsewhere in the columns of the Tribune. People having property in the location mentioned should get in touch with the party at once.

Bliss, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Dear Editor, After November 1 please change my address for the Tribune to St. Cloud. We have been home-sick for St. Cloud ever since we left there last May, and if the people there are as friendly and as hospitable as usual we intend to become permanent residents of your city. If we could bring all our northern friends with us we would leave this country without regret. As it is we have converted a few, and if they are as well pleased with the Wonder City as the most of its visitors, they also, will remain permanently. Glad to hear of the permanent improvements in your city. We hope to see you soon after I cast my vote for Mr. Hughes.

PROPERTY MOVING IN ST. CLOUD NEW ARRIVALS BUYING HOMES

St. Cloud real estate is changing hands at a rate that indicates healthy growth and the addition of many new families to our community during the coming winter. Every day some new arrival selects a location for their future home and makes a purchase. Many new houses will be constructed during the winter and property values will likely take a jump upward. S. W. Porter, who has handled much of the property in St. Cloud during his residence here reports the following sales this week: Sold—The Kimball S. Crook property on Missouri avenue and Sixth street; two lots corner Michigan avenue and Eleventh street; two lots corner Virginia and Eleventh, and the D. C. Brown property on Indiana avenue. TOURISTS COMING IN LARGE NUMBERS Reports from many cities in the state that more visitors have arrived week. The Tribune has refrained from discussing the political situation in the state for the reason that building a better city was of more importance to us than printing the stories of political squabbles that have been before the public in so many of the state papers.

Recently the editor of the Tribune has received several letters that were intended for publication, in which the writer forgot all rules of preparing manuscript and used both sides of the paper. We cannot handle such letters for publication. One side only of the paper must be used and all letters must bear the signature of the writer for identification.

One of the readers of the Tribune brings us the information published in the Christian Science Monitor that the decision rendered in the suit against Willis V. Cole, a New York practitioner of Christian Science, convicted of practicing medicine without lawful authorization and registration, reversed the lower court, holding that practicing the tenets of the church was not a violation of the statutes covering the practice of medicine. already this season than usual, indicate that the number who will come to Florida before the winter is over will exceed any former year. At St. Cloud the number grows daily. Old residents who have gone back north for the summer have returned in great numbers, and invariably the statement made has been that the summer was too warm in the North and they were glad to get back to St. Cloud. With the coming of frosty weather in northern latitudes there is a great stream of tourists headed this way, and soon after the election is over towns will be filled to overflowing and the season will be on in earnest. The wide-awake town will secure many new permanent residents from this large number of visitors. Other towns will profit nothing. St. Cloud will add hundreds to its population, for the many attractions here make life worth living in this community. Join the town of contented home makers.

of the supreme court judges added that he denied the right of the legislature to attempt to prevent by state laws the practice of healing by prayer. The Christian Scientists look upon this decision as a victory for their religion. The chief witness against Mr. Cole was a woman employed by a medical society to make the investigation, her testimony consisting of her experience when she applied for treatment under Christian Science.

114 New York Avenue St. Cloud, Florida

AN ESTEEMED LADY Chicago, Ill., Oct. 19, 1916. Mr. and Mrs. Ansbauh. St. Cloud, Florida.

Dear Friends:—Received your letter of October 7th, and would have written you sooner had we not been so busy.

I am in deepest sympathy with you in your terrible grief and will do what I can in regard to her personal belongings, to take some load off your minds and hearts, and get everything I can for you. To you they will be sacred and you will receive some comfort in having them because they were hers.

What the great trouble was no one knows, but it must have been too heavy a burden for her sensitive and educated mind to stand.

The many kind words spoken of her in my presence by her friends proved to me that she was a beautiful character and a splendid business woman, and all her friends showed themselves to be of the same character, and it was pleasant for me to be among such people and mingle with them.

Hoping you will find the needed comfort and strength through prayer, I remain sincerely yours, N. G. Carlson.

ist and of course all those who were present are no longer in doubt about their futures.

Refreshments were served at about 10:30, after which time the more elderly people wended their several ways homeward, but the young people stayed on to enjoy the fun.

One month from last Friday evening, the E. L. will hold the next social in keeping with Thanksgiving time.

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA

Last Monday Prof. R. W. Greene, the Y. M. C. A. secretary of the Rollins College, came to Gainesville for a conference with the cabinet of the University Y. M. C. A. concerning the state student conference that is to be held at Stetson University on January 2-4.

College of Engineering

On Wednesday afternoon the laboratories of the College of Engineering were thrown open to the Citrus Seminar, and a large number of visitors went through the building and saw the excellent facilities for engineering study provided at their state university.

A short article by Dr. Benton has appeared in the last number of the Society for Promotion of Engineering Education.

Professor Chandler delivered a lecture on gas engines before the Citrus Seminar. The lecture was greatly appreciated and many of the hearers expressed themselves as pleased to know that they could turn to the State University for assistance in engineering problems, as well as in those of agriculture.

The regular meeting of the Benton Engineering Society was held Monday evening, Oct. 3, at which Professor Thoroughgood delivered a lecture on Federal aid to road building.

University Delegates at Opening of Packing Plant

The College of Agriculture of the University of Florida was well represented at the recent meeting held in celebration of the opening of the meat packing plant recently built by the Armour Packing Company, at Jacksonville, Fla. Those present at the opening were Professors C. K. McQuarrie and E. S. Pace of the Extension Division, Professors John M. Scott and C. L. Willoughby of the Animal Husbandry Department of the Experiment Station and the College, and Dr. A. H. Logan, of the Bureau of Animal Industry, co-operating on hog cholera work in Florida.

Rapid Growth of Interest in Correspondence Courses in Agriculture

Since the enlargement and expansion of the correspondence courses in the College of Agriculture a great amount of interest is being shown in them. These courses are provided to carry the services of the University to the homes of the people throughout the state, where they have been warmly welcomed by many who could not come to the University for personal instruction.

People from all walks of life have registered for one or more of the fourteen courses offered. Farmers who wish to study scientific agriculture have enrolled. Citrus canker inspectors, farm demonstration agents and school teachers are taking courses in citrus culture, poultry production, rural co-operation and others, to help them in their work.

Crop Estimates Service to be Broadened

The work of the Bureau of Crop Estimates in Florida will be reorganized within the next few months. A special agent will be detailed to the state during the trucking season. This agent will follow the trucking season up the coast, through Georgia, the Carolinas and Virginia, after the season is over in Florida.

OBITUARY

John W. Meek was born in Meigs County, Ohio, November 2, 1847. He was reared on a farm and his education was obtained in the common schools of his native state.

In the year '82 at the age of twenty, he enlisted in Company E, 75th Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and celebrated his 21st birthday in the rifle pits near Centz, Va.

He was never absent from his regiment until taken prisoner in the battle of Gainesville, Fla., August 17, 1864, where his regiment was nearly destroyed.

He was held in the prisons of Andersonville, Ga., and Florence, S. C., until the spring of 1865.

He received an honorable discharge from the army at the close of the war and returned to his home in Ohio.

In 1867 he was married to Flora McNeil, who died in 1878. To this union four children were born, one of which died in infancy.

February 1st, 1870, Mr. Meek arrived in Lincoln county, Kansas, where he lived on a farm for several years.

He was married to Alice Arhart on February 1st, 1880.

In 1889 he was elected to the office of county clerk, and was re-elected in 1891, was appointed clerk of the district court in 1907 and was elected to the office in 1908 and again in 1910.

He was made a Mason in 1869, in Harrisonville Lodge No. 411, Ohio. was a thirty-second degree Mason, also a Shriner, and was a member of the A. O. U. W., the I. O. O. F. and the G. A. R.

In the spring of 1914 Mr. and Mrs. Meek moved to St. Cloud, Florida. In this balmy southern city many new friends were made, who mourn his loss. He took an active interest in all local affairs and found a quiet joy in his lovely home until he departed this life suddenly, of heart failure, September 19th, 1916.

Mr. Meek is survived by his wife, now of Indiana, Pa., and three children; Milford G. Meek, of Breen, Cal.; Emory C. Meek, of Indiana, Pa.; and Mrs. Eva L. Stout, of Coolville, Ohio.

It was Mr. Meek's desire to be buried in the North, so his son, E. C. Meek, brought the remains to Indiana, where they were laid to rest in Oakland Cemetery.

MANY ATTEND THE H.A. PLATO FUNERAL

The funeral of H. A. Plato, Civil war veteran and one of Amherst's pioneer merchants and respected citizens, was held recently from St. Joseph's Catholic church, Amherst, O.

Every business in the village was closed during the funeral hour.

The church was filled to its capacity by the host of friends of the deceased.

Here and there sat a gray old veteran with bowed head as the last sad rites of the church were pronounced over the remains of their friend and comrade. A large number of the deceased former business associates attended the services.

Leaving the church, the funeral party passed through the village and by the site of the old store where the deceased started his mercantile career.

The remains were interred in the family lot in Calvary cemetery.

Comrade H. A. Plato was one of the pioneer citizens of St. Cloud. He came to this city in 1909 and put up his camp near headquarters, then situated on Ohio avenue. He subsequently built a very comfortable residence on the same site, and is now owned by A. J. Kaufman. Mr. Plato was formerly in Co. E, 18th Ohio.

COMRADE A. PLATO DIES

Comrade Nicholas Batt is in receipt of a copy of the Amherst Weekly News, Amherst, Ohio, giving the information that Comrade Henry A. Plato, who formerly lived in St. Cloud had died in Lorraine Hospital on Wednesday, October 19.

Mr. Plato was one of the successful merchants in Amherst, Ohio, until several years ago, when he retired from active business life, and had planned to spend this winter in St. Cloud again. Mr. Plato was born in Germany, came to America when 11 years old, and in 1863 he enlisted in Company E, 128th O. V. I., and was mustered out in July of 1865. Mr. Plato was 71 years of age at the time of his death and leaves five daughters and a son to mourn his demise.

OUR APPRECIATION

Mrs. Kibbe, once of Fletcher, now of St. Cloud, Florida, carefully gathered and selected pinneedles enough to make two handsome baskets with which the ushers might take the collection in the church. She wove them and bound them with many fine stitches and on sending them to the M. E. church said: "Each one of the stitches was to be regarded as a messenger of love to her Fletcher friends. The Sunday school sent back this reply by W. W. Hutto, who was appointed by the superintendent to make acknowledgment.

Dear Mrs. Kibbe: The love one shows to fellowmen is the true test of Holy love; When such a love is manifest We know it cometh from above.

In such a manner came a gift To Fletcher's M. E. church one day— Two baskets for benevolence, With stitches having tongues, to say: "I am a messenger of love, To my dear friends forever more." The church responds with moistened eyes— We send love back ten thousand score.

Lest we forget, on each Lord's Day, We'll use the wickers stitched by you, And pray a blessing from the gift To givers and the Kibbes too.

There was no gift in all the world That you could send back where you've trod, Just quite so rich and priceless as Love-stitches to the church of God. —Fletcher (Okla.) Tribune

COMRADE MARTIN MCFARLAND PASSED MUSTER

To the friends of Martin McFarland, of St. Cloud, Fla., I must tell that the veteran, Martin McFarland, who partook of your kind hospitality last winter, has passed away. He was preparing to be with you again this winter, but God did not will it so. He was cared for by his foster son and family, who mourn him deeply. His funeral was held in Five Mound church, where he has been a member many years, conducted by Rev. A. A. Mason. His body was placed in the Altoona Cemetery, state of Kansas, by the side of his wife. He was a faithful follower of his Master and a friend to all who knew him.

Mrs. A. A. Mason.

H. Blanchard, one of the youngest kids of the St. Cloud colony, celebrated his 69th birthday on October 26. The guests were: Capt. C. H. Calkins, Comrades John Anderson, C. N. Levitt. They enjoyed a good oyster dinner, raws and in stew; also cake, cheese and coffee, with cigars to top off. Comrade Anderson entertained the party for an hour on the violin. All expressed themselves as having had a good time and wished that Comrade Blanchard would have a birthday every month.

Next year Comrade Blanchard intends to celebrate his 70th birthday in Patterson, N. J. His sister will be 80 on October 3, 1917, so Comrade Blanchard will have a two-fold purpose for going north next year.

TUESDAY WAS LAST DAY TO PAY COUNTY LICENSES

County Tax Collector Bandy and County Attorney Crawford Visit City to Wind Up.

Tuesday was the last day of grace for business concerns who had failed to take out county and state licenses, and those who did not visit the county tax collector while he was here that day and secure the necessary license are subject to the penalties for their delinquencies.

County Tax Collector C. L. Bandy visited the city Tuesday in company with County Prosecuting Attorney W. B. Crawford, for the purpose of giving those few business concerns who had not attended to this necessary matter the last chance before information was filed for violation of the state laws. Many licenses have been issued from the office of the county tax collector during the past week, and it is probable there will be but few who are made to pay the penalty for failure to obtain a license.

During this month County Tax Collector C. L. Bandy is giving a discount for those who pay their state and county taxes for the fiscal year. This inducement is offered to obtain liberal payments early in the year so that work planned in the county may not be delayed.

HANDSOME PILLOW TO BE PRESENTED TO G. A. R.

The editor of the Tribune is in receipt of a handsome hand embroidered pillow, made from silk cuttings, the handiwork of Mrs. S. Ackerman, of Jefferson Valley, N. Y., who spent the winter here three years ago, with the request that the pillow be presented to the St. Cloud G. A. R., to be sold and the proceeds to go to the hall fund. The pillow will be presented at the next meeting.

LETTER FROM L. L. KIBBE

St. Cloud, Fla., Sept. 4, 1916. Dear Editor:

In your last issue you gave me a gentle reminder of what I was thinking of doing. Now for a short letter, but more frequent than I have been writing.

This has been a lovely day in St. Cloud, temperature 76 and a fine rain this p. m., all growing crops looking well. Wife and I are both enjoying good health. Many of our citizens who went north to visit their homes and relatives are now returning, and to use their own words: "Oh, I am so glad to get back to sunny St. Cloud." We have been here long enough in this climate to speak with some degree of truthfulness about it. We have enjoyed our stay here this summer. The temperature does not get as high here as in Oklahoma, although we get the more direct rays of the sun than you do, but the breezes from the great bodies of water temper the heat, and persons from the extreme north come here to enjoy the summer.

Our city of about 3,500 people is now fast developing into a rather populous and prosperous city. Tomorrow we vote on waterworks plans and sewers and other improvements with great assurance that it will vary.

I think this is one of the most beautiful places I have ever lived in, with good water and plenty good, pure air. The surrounding forests are principally of pine, good size, straight and beautiful. The greatest season for flowers is winter, but in every month of the year you can see beautiful lawns with varieties of flowers in full bloom. The semi-tropical trees in trees, varieties, also the fruits peculiar to this section. The orange, grapefruit and grapes in abundance, besides other things too numerous to mention.

This month the gardeners are making preparations for their winter gardens, and strawberries, which consists of all the vegetables you raise in Oklahoma and then some. An interurban road is now about assured, headquarters at this place; capital all subscribed and nearly every mile of right of way secured. It will cover a distance of about 300 miles, will connect this city with the east coast and is intended to also in the near future connect with the west coast.

Beautiful East Lake Tohopekaliga is a great resort for bathers, both winter and summer, many parties come from a distance to enjoy the bathing. I never lived in any place where as few flies are to be seen as here, and no more mosquitoes than you have in Oklahoma. Fishing is fine, but confined to fishing with hook and line, plenty of fresh water fish in the market, also salt water fresh fish. I am not a fisherman, rather go to the market and buy what I want for ten to twenty cents than walk to the fishing grounds and get a big haul. House building is always going on, some of brick, some of concrete blocks, others of frame.

Enough for this time. Regards to my old friends and acquaintances. Would be glad to answer any inquiry by letter to interested parties.

Your old friend, L. L. Kibbe.

WATCH CHILDREN'S TEETH

A recent investigation made by the U. S. Public Health Service in connection with studies of rural school children showed that 49.3 per cent had defective teeth, 23.1 per cent had two or more missing teeth, and only 10.9 per cent had had dental attention. Over fourteen per cent never used a tooth brush, 38.2 per cent used one occasionally and only 27.4 per cent used one daily. Defective teeth reduce physical efficiency. Dirty, suppurating, snaggletoothed mouths are responsible for many cases of heart disease, rheumatism, and other chronic affections. The children are not responsible for the neglected state of their teeth. The ignorant and careless parent is to blame for this condition—a condition which hampers mental and physical growth and puts a permanent handicap on our future citizens. School teachers can and are doing much in inculcating habits of personal cleanliness on the rural school child but this will fail of the highest accomplishment unless parents co-operate heartily and continuously. This is a duty which we owe our children.

IMAGINARY CONSERVATIONS

She was only about five years, and dressed all in snowy white and very proudly bearing a bright pink parasol. The Woman Who Saw watched her with amusement as she saw her approach, swishing her short skirts, smiling and talking eagerly to an imaginary person at her side. Shrug-ging her shoulders, gesticulating, with all the airs and graces of a thorough woman of the world, she slowly disappeared up the street. With a sigh, the Woman Who Saw went her way, wishing she also might create her companions at will. How much wear and tear of one's disposition that would save! For, of course, fictitious friends always say just what you want them to.
